I remember when . . .

The silent prayers in the night . . .

the quest for knowledge . . .

the way we spent lunch . . .

the end of the day . . .

and George Dickel
saves us again.

Flower
Children???

The quest to reach the top . . .

and this is
as far as we got!

What In The World Are We Doing Here?!

Looking for your glasses, Dianne?

Yes, I'm a library major, also.

You
Mean
To Tell Me
I've Already Contaminated
Something . . .
I've Only
Touched
The Door.

Eagerly, sometimes desperately we wait
for some touch with the real world.

Relaxation!
Food!
Bed!

What's

Here I am Rex! Fill Me With Knowledge!

Mom, I Don't Think I'm Gonna Make It –

Another Hard Night Sweating Exams . . .

Usual Day; No Complaints . . .

CANCER? EMPHYSEMA? ASTHMA? CHRONIC BRONCHITIS? TUBERCULOSIS? V.D.?

Then
They Are Ours

MILLARD DANIEL HILL, M.D.
FEBRUARY 4, 1901-APRIL 19, 1969

Familiarly known as "M.D.", Dr. Hill came to Rex Hospital as a young intern in 1929 following graduation from the Medical College of Virginia. A native of Johnston County, he also graduated from Trinity Park (Duke University) and Wake Forest College.

Through the years as he engaged in the private practice of medicine, he was associated with Rex in many capacities, including Chief of the Medical Staff. In 1934 he was named Wake County's General Practitioner of the year, and at the time of his death was Chairman of the Wake County Board of Health. Active in many national, state, and local medical groups, Dr. Hill served as Vice-President of the A.M.A. in 1955. For nine years, he was Secretary-Treasurer of the North Carolina State Medical Society.

In his care and concern for others he exemplified those qualities most admired in physicians of Charity, Loyalty, and Integrity as he ministered to his fellowman through participation in medical, civic, and church activities.

IN MEMORIAM

DEDICATION

As we see we get to know a person,
someone new that we have almost never met.
Hard to find is the teacher who asks no honor or recognition for her work, deriving personal satisfaction from working with students on an individual basis.

Combining her warm smile and easy
going manners with volumes of knowledge, she conveys to her students not only
basic skills but an inexhaustible enthusiasm for helping others.
She has become a true
friend.

For your friendship, your praise,
your dedication, we thank you;
we your cherubs gratefully dedicate our annual to you, Our Great White Mother —

THE EYES OF A CHILD

A child's eyes, Those clear wells of undefiled thought what on earth can be more beautiful? Full of hope, love, curiosity, they meet your own. In prayer, how tender! The man who never tried the companionship of a little child has carlessly passed by one of the great pleasures of life, as one passes a rare flower without plucking it or knowing its value.

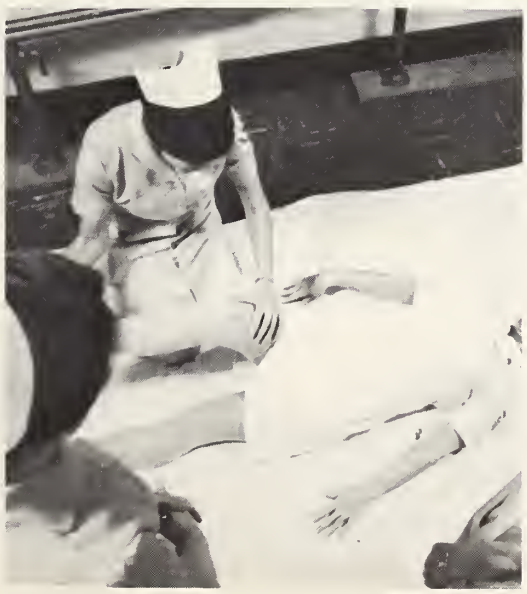
INTENSIVE CARE

After sad and evil days -- hurries the happier hour of gentle joy.

CARDIAC UNIT

To hear the unmistakable rhythmic gush of a respiration and the steady beep of a monitor. Then I would enter and silently pray "Oh, God, help me see past the bottles, see past the tubes, see past the machine's, that I might see into their eyes, see into their minds, see into their hearts, and bring them some small part of that they will still believe my healthy self, life is worth living; life is worth the fight."

PHYSICAL THERAPY



The more difficult the obstacle, the stronger one becomes after hurdling it.

THE HILL

In that corner over there
Sits a man, a broken man.
He walks and talks,
I see no scars,
Yet he's hurt, yet he's sick,
He's mentally ill.
My heart yearned.
Yet my hands did not reach out.
"How?" I cried.
I wanted to do, not sit
I wanted to answer, not question.
I wanted to talk, not listen.
Gradually as I sat longer,
I listened, I nodded,
I commented, I heard.
Ideas broadened, sensitivity deepened.
My heart reached out, my hands did not.
Yet we had a human bond
Wrought by effort and concern.
He responded.
In that corner over there
Sits a man, a broken man
But, he is better,
He knows I understand.

SANTA FILOMENA SOCIETY

The Santa Filomena Society is an honorary nursing society for Senior nursing students founded in 1943 by the Duke University School of Nursing. The Rex Hospital Chapter was organized on July 20, 1955 to recognize above average scholastic achievement, contributions toward the betterment of the school, and most important; leadership and proficient nursing skills. This year's objective has been to promote better understanding and communication between the different classes. Santa Filomena is awarding a trophy to the class which has done the most to help achieve this objective.

OUR HOUSEMOTHERS

Our devoted mothers away from home have spent a busy year "holding down the fort" for the Rex students. Many long hours have been put in, answering the phone, calling girls for guests, flipping cards and shaking their heads at the rollers, bare feet and khakis. The student hostesses help out at meal time and week-ends to give the housemothers a welcome break. Thank you Mrs. Duke, Mrs. Wittington and Mrs. Johnson.

EDITOR'S COMMENT

This note is from the editors of the 1970 Nightingale.

We would like to give thanks to all those wonderful people on the staff who gave of their time and effort to make this yearbook as you, the reader, have just seen. Many long hours after work and on the week-ends were spent with you in mind. We feel that the work was worth the effort.

We would like to extend further thanks to the two new photographers that helped to get the pictures, develop them, and print them in their own "spare time". Our hats are off to Mack McLaurin and Colon Barker.

With all the traps set forth for the annual staff and all of the trials and temptations set in the path, somehow, someway, and with the help of many we pulled together what we think is the best darn annual ever for Rex Hospital School of Nursing for the best year of all, 1970 . . .

We, the editors, feel that we could not close the annual without saying to the SENIORS OF 1970, the graduating class, that a new road and life is about to start and everyone wishes to extend to you a well meant and well deserved """GOOD LUCK AND BEST WISHES FOREVER"""

As we close this book let us always remember to look at it often enough to keep the dust away from the shelf and to keep within our hearts a song, a picture of youth, and a place for God till we fade away.

THANK YOU

J. Colon Barker and Judy McLaurin
